

FAMILY-CENTERED SERVICES

High Country Early Intervention Inc., dba Karen A. Fay specializes in helping individuals with developmental disabilities of all ages. As a local community provider of therapeutic services we are inclusive of the whole family.

Our support of the individual receiving services extends to the support of family members by providing information about how to further improve developmental progress at home, as well as listening and responding to family developmental concerns, challenges, and/or success stories. We also provide community resource and referral information, as needed.

If you are uncertain about which program may be the right fit for your family, please contact us.

We provide speech, occupational, and physical therapy to all ages. Our licensed therapists are able to perform evaluations and provide ongoing therapy services to those who qualify.

Therapies can be provided in various locations depending on availability.

We accept private pay and are contracted with most insurance companies, including AHCCCS, as well as the DES Division of Developmental Disabilities (DDD).

LITTLE LEARNERS PROGRAM

(Birth through age 5)

NOW ENROLLING!

This FREE in-home program promotes the overall development for those children who have mild to moderate delays and do not qualify for early intervention services or preschool special education services.

When parents are not sure if their child may qualify, we will be happy to perform a free developmental assessment.

Our program brings together the culture and knowledge of parents with the expertise of our staff to help get children to meet their developmental milestones.

Parents & staff, along with consultation by licensed therapists, develop activities to practice during home visits and in-between visits.
